May 2020

Lesson: May 2020

Objective/Learning Target: This lesson is for students who leave off the final consonant in words. The student will practice pairs of words that are only different by the addition of a final consonant on the second word.

Warm - Up:

Before you start, take a wiggle break with this fun song and dance.

Shake Your Sillies Out

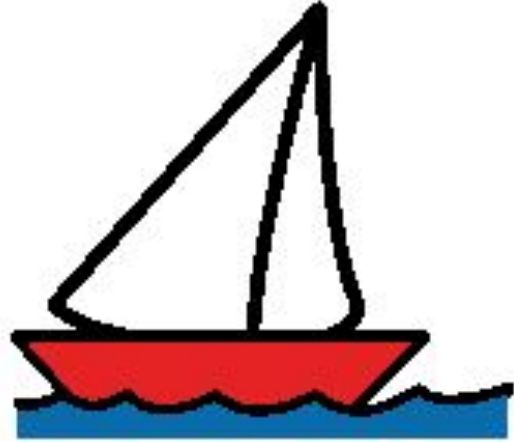

Directions:

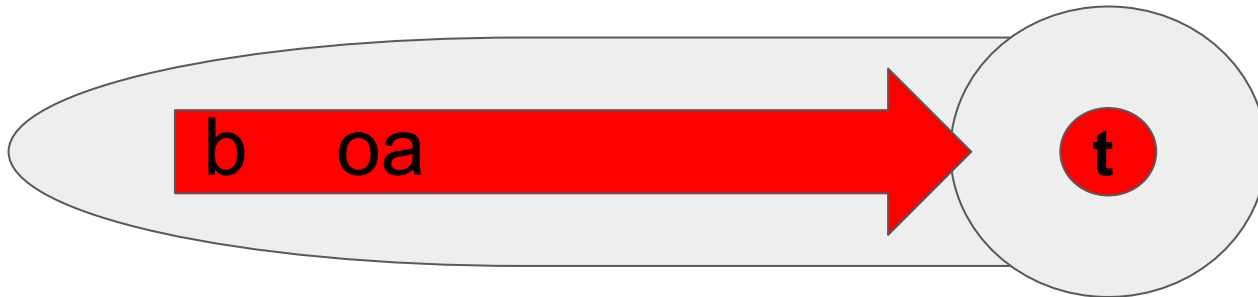

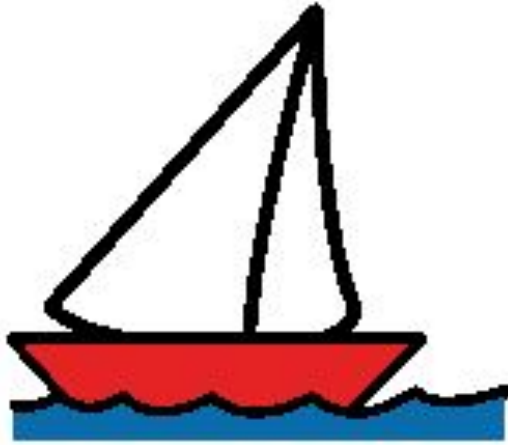

Read the pair of words. Talk about how the words represent different things. "This is a bow. Girls wear them in their hair. This is a boat. It floats on the water. They are different things ... so they have different names." Emphasize the final sound on the second word. Have the student say both words. Go to the next slide and practice the CVC word.
