Practice:

In addition to his plays, Shakespeare wrote 154 sonnets on a variety of topics. This, “Sonnet 92,” is a meditation on unfaithfulness, betrayal, and love. A sonnet is a poem consisting of fourteen lines that uses a Rhyme scheme. It may be written in iambic pentameter (one unstressed syllable followed by a stressed syllable, repeated five times per line), but does not have to be. In English, sonnets usually have ten syllables per line. Read the William Shakespeare’s “Sonnet 92” and take notes over the sonnet to help answer the text-dependent questions.
