Drawing 1
Lesson: Dream In a Jar
April 29, 2020

Objective/Learning Target:

Throughout the unit, students will create multiple drawings. These will include a three dimensional technique with an imaginative twist. The students should be able to draw the jars, as well as their contents, using techniques learned to give a three dimensional effect.

Bell Ringer:

Today you will write down a dream.
This can be an object or goal you have always wanted to obtain, and/or what you dreamt of the night before.

Terminology:

Value: The lightness or darkness of a color.

Blending: Various pencil pressures, smoothed to minimize lines/streaks.

Hatching: Technique of shading by using parallel lines.

Cross-Hatching: Technique of shading using intersecting lines.

Stippling: Technique of shading by using dots or dash marks.

Basic Shape: When looking at an object, the viewer breaks it down to the basic shape without the details.

Contour: Creating an outline of an object

Cross-Contour: Using lines to display the 3D shape of an object.

Texture: How an object feels or looks as though it may feel (rough, soft, bumpy).

Terminology:

Hue: The actual name of a color.

Tint: An effect by adding white to a color.

Tone: An effect by adding gray to a color.

Shade: An effect by adding black to a color.

Intensity: An effect by adding a color's complement to a color. Example: mixing red and green, which will create a brownish color (used a lot in shading of 3d objects in color).

Scumbling: A type of texture similar to stippling, yet, completed by using a scribble method.

Lesson:

Today you are going to draw one drawing, rather than thumbnail sketches.

- Get your paper and drawing materials
- On the paper, draw one large jar
 - Use the references from Monday's lesson
- This jar should have your own style, as well as be large enough to see inside.
 - Your jar does not have to be a traditional cylinder form, as it can have flared sides.
- Once you draw the jar, you will fill the inside with your dream.
 - After drawing in pencil, try to add color.

Lesson:

Pick a style of jar that describes you, such as traditional or small with a stopper.

Lesson:

When drawing your dream, think of how you could describe it using pictures. Is there a whole scene or is the jar full of objects?

Lesson:

Start filling the jar with light drawings before you start to darken them. Remember to use basic shape prior to adding details, then shading.

Lesson:

What are you putting in your jar? Is it going to have objects or a surreal world?

Lesson:

What are you putting in your jar? Is it going to have objects or a surreal world?

Lesson:

Think hard about this. Do you dream in color or black and white?

Lesson:

What does your dream jar say about you? Did you illustrate a scene or craving?

Check for Understanding:

Criteria 1: Did the student follow directions?

Criteria 2: Did the student get creative, such as adding their own twist?

Criteria 3: Did the student give effort?

Criteria 4: Craftsmanship: Neat, Clean, & Complete? Skillful use of the art tools and media?

Criteria 5: Student Reflection: Choose 2 prompts below and answer in 2 complete sentences.

1. What would you change with this work if you had a chance to do this piece over again?
2. What is one part of your artwork that you want people to notice when they look at your work?
3. How does your finished artwork tell a story?
4. Did you learn new techniques or processes as part of the work for this project?
5. Did you pick a material or technique that was new or different over something that was familiar?
6. I want to know more about...
7. I'm most proud of...
8. The most challenging thing was...
9. Next time I will remember to...
10. Now I know...

Resources:

Dream jars can be complex, as each one may be different. Here are some tutorials on painting your own galaxy effect, as well as the Dream Trail in London which came from Disney's The BFG. The Dream Trail has a lot of inspiration on what you could put into your jars.
