Bell Ringer/Let's Get Started

Watch this clip from Tucker Carlson where he interviews a Western Kentucky student.

What impression do you get from these speakers? What impressions do you get about the role of extemporaneous or impromptu delivery styles?

Lesson/Activity

Today will be our last practice day for our Recommendation speech.

Let's first think about pitch. Pitch is the vocal notes that you hit while speaking - the highs and lows of your voice.

If you speak in a monotone, then you deliver all of your words methodically at almost the same rate and pitch.

Let's check out a more in-depth explanation of pitch and be sure to complete the exercises!

Lesson/Activity

Next, let's talk about how to move. All movement should be purposeful. Let's figure out how we are going to add planned movement to your speeches.

As you watch the video, mark places on your outline where you can add movement.

Don't forget about gestures. Be sure to find key places in your speech to add gestures.

Practice

Let's do a final run through of our Recommendation Speech.

Be sure to incorporate movement.

Tomorrow, we will deliver our final performance!
