Learning target: Students will present fully-developed speeches.

Let's Get Started: Choose 3 categories of things (cars, places, movies, pets) and brainstorm five recommendations that you have for each of those three categories.

Recommendation Speech

Overview: This speech allows you to recommend something you like to your audience. It also requires research and documentation skills plus the use of presentation software like PowerPoint/Prezi/Google Slides.

Introduction to the Assignment

Your Purpose: You are to create a speech (five minutes is the maximum time limit) presenting something like one of the of the following to your classmates: *book *film *television series *album/CD *video game *website

This is your chance to recommend something you love for others to enjoy. You are required to use presentational software (e.g. PowerPoint or Prezi or Google Slides) to do so.

What to include

Your speech must use Prezi or Google Slides or PowerPoint and must include the following items:

- *An attention-getting device (tie back to it at the end of your speech)

- *A preview and review of your main points

- *A description of the topic. For plot-based topics, include a plot summary that YOU wrote (not copied from somewhere else). Do not give away surprises or how it ends. For collections of music, talk about connecting themes or music styles that bring it all together.

- *Reasons why we should view or read or listen to your topic.

Point 2: Experience (video clip, sound clip, reading a passage, etc.)

Point 3: Reasons why (use research to show awards won, sales figures, reasons other people besides just you think this is worthwhile)

Recommendation Speech Outline

CONCLUSION: Review three points and tie back to AGD.

Recommendation Speech Checklist

- A. You have written out your AGD somewhere (on paper, on a digital document).
Idea: use the assignment sheet (back of it has an outline).
- B. You have created an outline of your three points.
- C. You have a completed Works Cited page

Works Cited

1. You type the words Works Cited on the top of a clean page and center them.
2. You list your research (at least three sources) in alphabetical order using MLA citation format with your entries on the left margin. DO NOT FORGET TO INCLUDE YOUR ITEM FROM POINT 2 OF THE SPEECH.
3. If you have more than one line to an entry, the second (and third and fourth etc.) lines are indented to show they're still part of the same entry.
4. All entries MUST be double-spaced with NO blank lines between entries. Basically, this means that there is text on every other line on that page

Activity

Brainstorm some ideas for your upcoming speech!
