

ELL Virtual Learning

9-12 LEP Developing English

May 11th, 2020

9-12 LEP Developing
Lesson: Plot Structure
May 11, 2020

Objective/Learning Target:

I can distinguish the different components of plot structure in stories I read.

Let's Get Started!

Click HERE

Quick Write:

When you're asked to make a prediction, what do you base your prediction on?

"I use _____ to help me make predictions about stories I read."

Plot Structure

What is it?

- A general structure or pattern for how stories work
  - Exposition: We learn about characters and setting
  - Conflict: Complications make the conflict worse. The character struggles.
  - Climax: Turning point of the story
  - Resolution: The conflict ends or is resolved.

Directions:

1. Read through the passage
2. Identify the different parts of the plot structure in the story.
3. Label and highlight them with the correct color.

Color Key:

- Exposition: Green
- Conflict: Yellow.
- Climax: Red
- Resolution: Blue

Exposition

Ginny entered the beautifully decorated classroom and found her seat. She set her backpack down beside her seat and began to unpack her things . When she pulled out her binder, she discovered that her pencil was missing. Her teacher, Mrs. White, was very strict and would not tolerate being unprepared for class. Ginny grew more worried as she desperately searched through her bag for a spare pencil, but she could not find one . Just as she was beginning to really panic, Patrick, her neighbor, offered to let her borrow one of his for the day. Ginny was immensely grateful . She learned to always be prepared for class.

Conflict

Climax

Resolution

From the time Alex was eight years old, he dreamed of being a dentist. He decided to study science like never before. After high school graduation, he went to college and then to dental school. He studied many nights and almost fell asleep and she often gave up the chance to do something if he had a test the next day. Finally, Alexis became a dentist and had the life he had once imagined.