

Virtual Learning

Career Explorations: Interior Architect

April 24, 2020

Civil Engineering and Architecture
Mr. Windes, Mr. Leutzinger, Mr. Gant

Lesson: April 24, 2020

Objective/Learning Target:

Students will explore Interior Architecture as a career path.

What do they do?

Interior Architects design a wide variety of buildings and structures, including houses, hospitals, government buildings and more. Interior Architects are concerned with functionality, safety, practicality, legal issues and aesthetics in a building's interior design. They often partake in every part of the building process - from conception to construction - to ensure a satisfactory result. Many work very long hours as deadlines approach.

What skills do they need?

Interior Architects need strong communication, analytical, critical-thinking, organizational, visualization, and artistic skills. They also must be proficient with specialized tools and technology.

Watch the video:

How to Become an Interior Architect

After watching the video, answer the following questions in your engineer's notebook or on a piece of notebook paper. You will need to utilize additional resources to fully answer the questions (remember to cite your sources).

Questions

1. What are the main job responsibilities of an interior architect?
2. What is the average salary of an interior architect (use the most current information you can find)?
3. What is the job outlook for an interior architect in Kansas City? Is the number of interior architects needed going to increase or decrease in the future?
4. What is the difference between interior architecture and interior design?
5. What types of activities could an interior architect expect to do on a daily basis?
6. What does a person need to do to become an interior architect?

Additional Resources

https://study.com/articles/Interior_Architect_Job_Description_Duties_and_Requirements.html

https://learn.org/articles/Interior_Architect_Your_Salary_and_Career_Questions_Answered.html

<https://collegegrad.com/careers/interior-designers>