Bellwork:

What is one item that you would never consider wearing from your research? What decade is it from and why wouldn't you wear it?

How to do bellwork and assignments

- Create a google doc for Fashion II
- Title it with your full name and the name of the class with a VL in front for Virtual Learning
- Each day, put that day's date and lesson on a new page of the same doc
- Under the date, have two sections:
 - Bellwork
 - Assignment

Example Google Doc

1960-1970s

The 1960s was full of change, the fashion of the 60's changed drastically from the beginning to the end. In the beginning of the decade everything was pretty similar to the 50s, and by the end things shifted a lot and colors of crazy colors and prints were the big thing. I chose to make outfits more like how it was towards the end because I feel that that represents the 60s in a better way. The focus of my design is defining the print. I really liked how it popped and it really put the look together. I also really was a model in the 1960s and she was a big influence of that decade.

1970-1980

This was a huge turning point in history for women because they were able to express themselves. With large pointed lapels and broad bell-bottoms, women red decade which generally make the torso appear smaller. There was interest for free love and which generally make the torso appear smaller. Fashion in the 1980's

In 1980's the fashion was very obvious, in a good way. It was bright, the better and there is no such thing as too much. Some popular styles in the 1980's were big hair, clothes that were spandex material, pants with rips in the knees, sexy shirts, leg warmers, high waisted jeans, bright neon colors, molten haircuts, side ponytails, off the shoulder sweaters, and many more. The specific styles were created by certain people, heads, or celebrities that were popular. For example, legwarmers and spandex became popular from 80's workout videos. A very popular person, Jane Fonda, wore a lot of spandex like clothes so the trend originated from there. Everything, including the music, style, etc, took a very drastic turn from boring and bland to popping and fun. There was no color too bright, no hair too big, no jeans too tight, and no music too loud. 1980 was a very fun and upbeat decade.

1990-2000

The 1990s women's fashion consisted of many different styles than the eighties, it wasn't just it was classier smarter look. It was oversized sweaters, low heel shoes and a lot of
