Colors Review

In the video, they used different words for colors when describing the car and the truck. Why?

Colors Review

That's right!

In French, colors and other adjectives have masculine and feminine forms. If the object is masculine, you use the masculine form. If the object is feminine, you use the feminine form.

How do you know if an object is masculine or feminine? An object is masculine if it takes “le” for “the,” and an object is feminine if it takes “la” for “the.”

Examples: la voiture le camion

How?

To make an adjective feminine, you usually just add an extra “e” to the end of the word. You don’t add this extra “e” if the word already ends in “e.”

Examples

Masculine

Feminine

Le camion est vert.

La voiture est verte.

Le camion est rouge.

La voiture est rouge.

Some adjectives have unusual forms. For example,

Masculine

Feminine

Violet

Violette

Blanc

Blanche

Practice

Change the color in the following sentences as necessary.

1. La vache est noir _____.
2. Le camion est vert _____.
3. Le poisson est jaune ____.
4. La chèvre est blanc _____.
5. La voiture est rouge ____.

Answer the following questions in French.
