Warm Up

Answer this in your notebook:

How can the concept of “you reap what you sow” make your life more positive?

Warm Up

Answer this in your notebook:

How can the concept of “you reap what you sow” make your life more positive?

I think this just makes sense. When you are kind and help others, they will do the same for you.

Lesson Activity

Let's review the definition of the The Law of the Harvest:

The Law of the Harvest:

1. You reap what you sow
2. The more I help others, the more they will want to help me in return.

Always remember the want is a reflection of you influence on people. We want to help others that are a positive influence on us, or who have helped us as well.

Who is someone who has had an influence on you that you would not hesitate to help? Why?

Practice

What are the two definitions of the Law of the Harvest:

Describe an example of the Law of the Harvest:

If the Law of the Harvest is simple to understand, why do you think many people struggle with living it out?

Is serving and sacrificing for someone transactional? Why or why not? (Ex. I serve you so you are automatically going to serve me.)

The Law of the Harvest Reflection:

In your notebooks, answer the following questions. You can use the work you did yesterday, and the review work from today to complete this work.

Reflection

When was the last time you intentionally did something kind for someone else and that person, in turn, showed up for you?
