

Foundations of Woods

Project Book 1-Chapter 6:
Materials and Fasteners for Projects
Quiz

May 15, 2020

9-12/ Foundations of Woods
Project Book 1-Chapter 6 Quiz: [May 15, 2020]

Objective/Learning Target:

Students will be taking a quiz over chapter 6 to review the material they learned on 5/14/2020.

Which of the following types of lumber is the softest?

-Douglas Fir

-Pine

-Cedar

-Oak

Pine

Which of the following materials is often used in applications where the finished appearance of the material is not important, such as drawer bottoms or cabinet backs?

-Pressboard

-Plywood

-Pine

-Cedar

Which of the following lumber defects are usually found just at the end of the boards?

-Splits

-Knots

-Pitch Pockets

-Checks

Checks

Which of the following terms refers to the size of a board that has been rough sawn from a log?

- Actual Size
- Nominal Size
- Estimated Size
- Proportional Size

Nominal Size

Which of the following is constructed of wood fibers that are joined under heat and pressure?

-Plywood

-Oriented strand board

-Pine

-Pressboard

Pressboard

The presence of bark along the edge or corner of a piece of lumber is a defect called a(n) _____.

-Warp

-Wane

-Split

-Check

Wane

A curve along the face, edge, or length of a board is a(n)_____ and is caused by improper storage.

-Splits

-Wane

-Warp

-Checks

A thin gauge nail used to avoid splitting the grain of the wood is called _____

-Pins

-Nails

-Tacks

-Brads

Brads

All boards have _____, width, and length.

-Thickness

-Height

-Size

-Depth

In most cases plywood is stronger than actual wood

-True

-False

True

Nails have better holding power than screws.

-True

-False

False

