PROTECT YOUR IDENTITY

With the recent cyber attacks, data breaches, compromised websites it is important to protect your identity and information that is present on the world wide web. With more and more businesses (ex. medical offices, insurance companies, employers, credit card companies, etc) storing your information in the cloud you are more vulnerable to these attacks. It is important for you to keep an eye on your credit report to assure no one is using your identity information. All consumers are encouraged to run their own credit with Free access to all 3 major reporting agencies. You can get one report from each annually.

Login to AnnualCreditReport.com today and get a copy of your report immediately. It is a good idea to make sure that all information regarding your credit is accurate. If you see any discrepancies on your report be sure you file a dispute with them to get it corrected.
