Partnership for Success
Home and School Agreement

Successful schools are the result of families and teachers working together. We believe that every child can be successful when the family, child, and teacher each commit to standards that will encourage academic progress. Commitment statements for Luff teachers, students and parents are listed below. These commitments have been discussed with your child, and the agreement has been signed by both your child and his or her teacher. We ask that you sign this agreement as well. Your signature indicates your desire to partner with the staff of John W. Luff to ensure the best education for your child.

Thank you for being a partner in your child's success.
