Small, loose sketches of objects we find or design concepts

Yesterday you found at least 5 moments to sketch. These moments could be every day and simple, they could tell a story of a person, or they could be to tell what times are like today.

Choose from the sketches you created, 1 to really work on. Will you be changing this at all. For example: if this is from the viewpoint of a small child, how will the room look different?

Choose your medium you will be creating in today.
(Pencil, colored pencil, paints...?)

Begin by sketching your image very lightly. You may still get sure draw to get the figures and proportions of the image accurately, but do this lightly so you can erase unwanted lines later.

Clean up your sketch and add details. Background is important to your story as well as it shows the setting.
