Small, loose sketches of objects we find or design concepts

We are going to spend this week diving into the history and mysteries of the Mona Lisa. Heard of her? She is a very famous, recognizable painting. Songs, poems, and parodies have been made after her. But, how much do we really know about her?

Take a moment to brainstorm. Set a timer for 2 minutes and write down all the things you know and first notice about our mysterious lady, Mona Lisa.

My List:

Italian Artist: Leonardo Da Vinci

Took many years to paint. Based off a real woman.

Oil paint

Earthy tones

3/4 Posed portrait.. .No eyebrows?

Road in background/water/mountains

She has a slight smile

She has the most realistic details and the view gets hazy in the background.

Can visit her in the Louvre Museum in Paris France.

MONA LISA

Why is this painting so famous? Like many paintings it was the first for some things. Da Vinci was one of the first to paint a smile quite like this, in a pose quite like this.. And it was stolen at one point, which drew a lot of attention.. Click here for a video to learn more about her.

MONA LISA

Even though people from all over the world for hundreds of years know this image, we do not all see it the same.

We all have a different point of view. For example, you will see things differently now than you did at 3 years old. Your point of view will change again as your grow older.

MONA LISA

Today I want you to consider seeing the Mona Lisa for the first time from a different point of view. You are going to write a 5 sentence review on this painting, as this person might see it. Include key features of this painting and use your academic vocabulary. (Principals and Elements) You get to pick the point of view. Next, is a list of people to choose from whose lives have been changed because of this painting.

MONA LISA

Leonardo Da Vinci- Artist, painted the Mona Lisa, new techniques to show.

Madam Lisa Gioconda- the possible model for this painting.

The thief Vincenzo Perugia who stole her to return her to what he saw as her rightful home, Italy.

Andy Warhol- artist who was inspired by this paintings when he created Marilyn.

MONA LISA

My example: Madam Lisa

“Today I saw my portrait for the first time. It is not finished yet, but it is close! I love the hazy look the artist added, it really makes me look younger.”

MONA LISA

He perfectly captured my smile and I have never seen that in a portrait before they are usually so stiff and solem. I hope that is ok. I am not sure why he used so many browns but even then the texture of my curly hair amazed me in the paints. I am excited to see it finished!”
