Words to wonder, what is a Composer and what is a Foley? What do they have to do with movies?

Let's talk:

Why is sound important in movies?

How would it change your movie-watching experience if the sound was muted?

Ready to try it yourself?

Your task is to add sounds (foley) and music to a short film. Watch the clip and think about the overall mood of the film, and what sounds need to be added:

Focus on Foley:

Decide who will make each sound!

Figure out how you will make your sound(s)! What objects, voices, body percussion, or instruments could you use?

Focus on Foley:

Practice adding your sound(s) to the film. Watch closely so you can add your sound at the correct time!

Focus on Foley:

Time to record! Make sure you don't miss your sound, and try not to make any other noises during recording!

If you can't record, that's ok, just try and perform for someone in your household! Don't forget to mute the original video....so it's just your awesomeness!

Let's talk:

How did it go? Which sounds did you think worked the best?

Extension, try being a Foley Artist to additional videos, we've given you some options, but don't feel limited, go out and explore other videos!

Don't forget to take inspiration from the original, but be your own artist! Explore what's in your house, what could make cool sound effects!

In addition, remember to mute the original so it's just your performance!

Next week we will start looking at various careers in the music industry. We've already explored composer, performer, foley artist, but there are so many more!
